Pipp's high-density mobile vertical storage solutions transform how retail operators store and manage inventory, while maximizing underutilized and inefficient storage areas.

Flexible, Scalable, Adaptable

Pipp's high-density mobile storage systems capitalize on unused aisle and cubic overhead space. This allows retail operators to stack products safely and securely, promoting an efficient and organized area while optimizing workflows and reducing clutter and wasted space. Pipp's systems eliminate fixed aisles by implementing mobile shelving. Shelving is easily moved along tracks to create aisles when needed to access inventory. These sleek yet robust units are designed for mobility, giving you flexibility, scalability, and adaptable storage solutions that can be adjusted as you grow. Pipp offers a variety of accessories, like bin solutions, to further organize your stockroom down to the inventory on each shelf.

Tackling the Limited Storage Space Challenge

As retailers, delivery services, and distributors strive to offer diverse products, limited storage space is a common constraint.
